Interviewer: Write participant’s response verbatim, writing each alternative consecutively. Then probe. If participant only provides one response, ask, “Anything else?”

A. ALTERNATIVE THINKING

I’d like you to imagine you’ve been out with a new guy whom you’re very attracted to — you’d like to have sex with him. You know that you would want to use condoms if you did end up having sex together, but you haven’t talked about it yet. He invites you back to his place, and you’re pretty sure he wants to have sex.

Tell me all the different things you would do or say in this situation to make it most likely to get your partner to have safe sex/use a condom.
